"Why did you give the officer $5 to get a drink when he told you he didn't drink": asked Senator Bradley.

"Well, I saw him standing there, and I'm built that way that I couldn't help stying him something.

"The officer told you he would do what he could for your son." Mr. Goff asked.

"Bo help me God, he didn't. All he said was that he didn't see my son steal the locket."

Donohue protested loudly that he didn't give the officer the money to britbe him, but simply did it as a friendly act.

Mr. Nicoll did not cross-examine the witness, and then Mrs. Augusta Thurow was called. Chairman Lexow informed Mrs. Thurow that she would be protected by the Committee in any testimony she might give.

Mr. Goff stated, at this point, that the reports in the newspapers that the will-nesses who testified before the Committee might be called to testify elsewhere, was having a very disastrous effect. In other words, it was intimidating them. Two important witnesses under sub-poena last Saturday had already left the State, he said, and another witness had stated that if he went on the stand he would never know where it would cod.

BOYS CRUSHED TO DEATH. The Carelessness of a Companion

Costs Two Lives. (By Associated Press.)

SHEPHERDSVILLE, Ky., June 4.—
Ed Horix and Tom Hart were killed near here Friday afternoon by the carelessness of Lee Eckert, a companion, with whom they had been playing. The three boys went to Buzzard Roost, a high binf, and rolled large stones into the valley below. After enjoying the fun for a while Horiz and Hart went below to view the damage done.

While they were in the valley Eckert, pried off a ledge of rock hanging on the brink, which went down with a tremendous crash, tearing down trees and shubbery and crushing the two boys to death.
